

Nicole Lachat was born in Edmonton, Canada, to a Peruvian mother and Swiss father. She earned her MFA in Creative Writing from New York University. Her poetry appears in Plains, Plains, and Plains, among others. She was awarded the 2022 Wilbur Gaffney Poetry Prize through the Academy of American Poets, and is a Banff Art Centre fellow. Lachat teaches at the University of Nebraska, where she is pursuing her PhD in Creative Writing.